Dear: Nye County residents

These past two weeks have been trying and challenging times for everyone in this great County of Nye. We are all dealing with a situation that has changed and interrupted our daily lives, no matter where you live.

The COVID-19 pandemic has impacted everyone.

Rest assured, County officials and management, emergency responders, and staff are working to minimize the disruptions while continuing to do the County's business. Public safety remains the top priority. Nye County is doing its part to slow the spread by closing government offices to walk-in traffic, practicing Social Distancing, and enforcing the governor's directives.

We ask everyone to follow the precautions that have been put forth by the Centers for Disease Control and Nevada health officials. Those guidelines can be accessed through our website nyecounty.net. Together, we can stop this virus.

The County is working tirelessly with the State officials, Federal agencies and some private individuals to acquire more personal protective equipment and testing kits for the entire County.

The County will continue to work diligently to keep services flowing while adhering to the guidelines issued as part of the Stay Home For Nevada directive from the state. Minimizing disruptions to access to essential County services remains a focus during these challenging times.

Life will return to normal. Our doors will be open again for face-to-face customer service and interaction. Today is not the new normal forever. But, until then, we all must Stay Home For Nevada, Stay Home For Nye.

Sincerely,
